

TILLMAN DOES NOT FEAR MOB

South Carolina Senator Was In Janesville For A Half Hour This Morning.

SAYS LA FOLLETTE IS A DEMOCRAT

Has Personally Asked Him Why He Does Not Cross The Party Line--Talks On Bryan And His Boomlet.

"Kill me? Why that is all news-paper talk. The work of some clever press agent of the ladies' society in Chicago under whose auspices I speak this evening, was the manner Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, of South Carolina, treated the reports that his speech in Chicago, tonight, on the negro question, might result in an attempt on his life.

Senator Tillman passed through Janesville at ten, twenty-five, this morning from Plattville, where he spoke last evening, and was in the city for half an hour, remaining in the Chicago coach during his stay at the depot.

He was shown the clippings from the Chicago papers announcing that a hundred police and a special body-guard of four men had been detailed to protect his life, that every negro entering Orchestra hall, in Chicago, where he speaks, was to be searched, and that every precaution known to the police was to be taken to make his entrance and exit from Chicago as safe as possible.

"An newspaper talk. Some clever advertising scheme, that is all. Do you suppose that there is a city in the north or the south either, where a United States senator can not speak at a public meeting without fear of his life? I do not. I anticipate no trouble whatsoever. I am going to deliver the same speech, as to ideas, that I have a hundred and seventy-five times delivered before in the north, and will not deviate in any respect idea that his life was in danger as the train pulled out, he was buried in the midst of all the morning papers reading with unconcealed interest every line written about his coming speech and the arrangements made for his safety.

Personally, Senator Tillman is one of the most pleasant men in the world to talk with. He is a plain country gentleman who has risen by his own strength of character to the position he holds, United States senator from South Carolina. His clothes are the garments of an everyday man. This morning he was enroute for Chicago from Plattville, where he spoke last night. He sat sprawled over two seats in the coach of the Plattville train that was switched onto the Chicago train and looked like an everyday country gentleman going to the city for a day's enjoyment. One has but to speak to him through, to hear his voice with its languid southern drawl, to feel the magnetism of the man.

He has but one eye and that is sharp and piercing but with all pleasant. When he looks you in the eye he smiles and beams all over. When he looks away it seems to shine and sparkle like a miniature electric globe. His vest was unbuttoned, his hat pulled down and his eye glasses on the end of his nose. His whole appearance was anything but what one would expect of the leader of the democratic party in the south.

They wait in Janesville was only a half hour but Senator Tillman had Benjamin R. Tillman.

In my plain talk about the negro and white supremacy. This talk of body guard and police protection I am sorry for. However, if Mrs. Keller, who represents the ladies' society I speak before this evening, is wise, she will hire a larger hall for this talk will surely pack the room to the doors.

"I maintain that the white man can never say to the negro, 'Come, stand up beside me,' without the negro climbing onto his shoulder. You must have white supremacy. There is no half way ground. The negro will either be subservient or he will be the boss. No half way measures for him.

"If these reports are true, if the negroes of Chicago are trying to stop my lecture tonight by threats and intimidation or by buying the committee off, why is it so? There is only one answer to this question. They are afraid that what I am going to say will influence my audience against them; will show them up in their true light. The truth hurts and that is what they are afraid of. They know that what I say about them as a race and what their position should be, is true, and they do not want the people of the north who treat them as equals, to know that it is true. That is the solving of the entire question.

"In order to further the interests of the south of the whole nation, we must have white supremacy. No middle ground. As I have said a moment ago, the negro will climb on your shoulder if you ask him to step to your side as your equal, and all my statements I give absolute proof that they are true. The negro knows this to be the fact and he fears my speech. They cannot stop my speaking through fear of their vengeance and from what the papers say I should not judge they could intimidate Mrs. Keeler.

While Mr. Tillman scoffed at the

CITY LIFE IS NEXT PROBLEM DISCUSSED

Census Bureau Says That People Will Live in the Cities in Years to Come.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—According to the annual report of Director North of the Census Bureau, the present aggregate debt of the cities in the United States containing over eight thousand inhabitants, is in excess of one billion six hundred million dollars, or greater than that of the combined debt of the national and state governments and of the counties, school districts and other minor civil divisions. The director adds that in a few decades over half the people will reside in cities having a population of eight thousand and over. The problem of self-government is, therefore, becoming one of city government.

PRESIDENT'S PANAMA VIEWS ARE TO COME

Will Be Ready to Tell Them What Is to Be Done in the Canal Zone Soon.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—The President's special message on the Panama canal, it is now expected, will be sent to congress probably about a week after it convenes. It will deal with every phase of the question and give a graphic detailed description of the condition on the isthmus. There will be recommendations for betterment of conditions, which suggested themselves to the President on his visit.

SHORT SESSION PROGRAM LONG

Much Important Business To Transact At Closing Meeting Of Fifty-Ninth Congress.

ANTI-CORPORATION BILLS BURIED

According To Rumor Trusts Will Not Be Given Blows--Smoot Case May Be Side-Track--Immigration Restriction.

(By Associated Press.)

IMPORTANT MATTERS TO RECEIVE ATTENTION.

Final action on the Santo Domingo treaty, which has been pending for some time.

The Isle of Pines treaty and the Morocco treaty also will come before the senate for action.

The further restriction of immigration is one of the most important subjects to be taken up.

A measure limiting the working hours of railway employees.

The case of Senator Smoot of Utah probably will be disposed of.

Two election reform measures, one providing for publicity in campaign affairs and the other prohibiting corporation campaign contributions, are awaiting consideration.

The ship subsidy bill, the bill to reduce the tariff on Philippine products entering the United States, the Chinese exclusion law, the anti-injunction bill and the eight-hour law are other important left-over measures that will receive the attention of the short session if time permits.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—One week hence the final session of the Fifty-ninth congress will be doing business and many of the members of both branches are already gathered in Washington in anticipation of the opening. As a general thing the short session is neither a busy nor an important one, but the prevailing opinion among the legislators is that the approaching session will brush aside precedent and establish a record for the dispatch of important business. The President is expected to make a number of new recommendations in his message, which, with the large amount of left-over business and the appropriation bills, will certainly keep both the house and senate "on the jump" to clear the decks before the congress expires on the 4th of next March.

The republicans feel that the strength of the administration has been increased by the November elections, which means that the President will push ahead determinedly with the development of his executive and legislative program. If the President's wishes are heeded congress will keep its hands off the Cuban situation and leave the administration

BELOIT UNIVERSITY CLUB HAD BANQUET

Committee Named to Look For Club Rooms—Organization Will Be Perfected.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit, Nov. 27.—With an attendance of 82, the college and university men of the city gathered at the Hotel Hilton last evening for a banquet which was designed to be preliminary to the organization of a university club. The attendance was much larger than was expected, and the enthusiasm over the proposed club was all that could be desired. A committee of ten was appointed after the advantages of having an organization where men of all schools of higher education might meet had been discussed. This committee will investigate the possibility of renting a club house or a suite of rooms, the probable cost of maintaining a club, the ways in which it might be influential in the city, best methods of organizing and other points and will report later. It appears that the club will be organized and will be a great success.

ANOTHER SALOON LICENSED

By the City Council at the Regular Session Last Evening—Water
 Co. Allowed $78.18.

All of the aldermen were present at the meeting of the city council last evening and as usual most of the business was framed up for passage at a speed mystifying to the public in a star-chamber session behind closed doors, lasting an hour and a half or more. It was at this session that the application of James Buchanan to transfer the license for a saloon at 74 East Milwaukee street to Spencer Walworth of Edgerton, who proposes to open at No. 5 North First street, was approved and the application of George Luxton for a pro rata license at 74 East Milwaukee street, dating from Dec. 1 to the first Tuesday in July, was turned down on the ground that to grant this same would set a bad precedent. A check for $251.67 accompanied this latter application and after Mr. Luxton had drawn an additional one for $208.33, making the sum $460, his application was granted.

Street Improvements
 The street assessment committee, through Alderman Sheridan, reported that the cost of improving Terrace street from the northerly side of West Blvd to the southerly side of Ravine street with cement curbing and gutter was $294.04 and that the sum of $832.44 was due Contractor B. P.
 Crossman; also that the cost of improving Washington street from West Blvd to Ravine with macadam, gutter and curbing was $2,471.04 and that there was due Contractor P. W.
 Ryan the sum of $1,334.54 after deducting the city's charges for crushed stone and the use of the city roller.
 A report showing the assessment of benefits and damages against property-owners on the above thoroughfares was also presented and accepted and the city clerk was instructed by an order to prepare a statement and schedule of assessments, which owners had not elected to pay, and have notices of the issuance of bonds therefor published in the official paper. By virtue of an order presented by Ald. Connell and passed, the city clerk was also instructed to draw an order upon the city treasurer in favor of A. E. Rutledge & Co. for the balance due said contractors for the improvements on North and South River streets and the postoffice alleys, the money being payable from the following funds: N. & S. River
 st. special improvement fund—$557.91; postoffice alleys fund—$96.02. A report received from Mayor Hutchinson and City Treasurer Fathers and approved, stated that the North and South River street bonds had been sold for $1,241.16 to J. G. Rexford, the lowest bidder, $2.48 of the amount being the premium paid, and that the money had been turned over to the treasury. Supt. George T.
 Croft reported that the stone crusher had delivered 290 1/2 yards of crushed stone during the two weeks ending

Nov. 24 and that there were 55 yards in the bins.

Claims Made and Paid.

The finance committee's report included an item of $535.06 payable to Edward Rager from the general fund for his services in surveying and taking measurements in preparation of the city's case in the action of Hanrahan & Lindquist to recover several thousands of dollars for "extras" in sewer construction. This item was allowed as were all of the others.
 While the plaintiffs in this action some time ago, informed that they were desirous of having it brought to trial early in December, the complaint has not been served, according to City Attorney Maxfield. The city clerk was instructed by an order to draw on the treasurer for $103.85 payable from the general fund in favor of the estate of the late Thomas E.
 Welch, the said amount being the sum paid by the estate on $5,000 personal property claimed by the heirs to be real estate mortgages returned by the assessor through error. By a similar order the clerk was instructed to draw on the treasurer in favor of Hattie May Van Pool in the sum of $14.90, the said amount being the sum paid by her for taxes on a building assigned through error of the assessor to lot 2, Shumway's addition, there being in reality no such building. The judiciary committee was granted further time for the consideration of a claim submitted by Mrs.
 Mary A. Dunphy for $100 damages for a broken arm and other injuries alleged to have been sustained in a fall on Oct. 30, due to a defective sidewalk on South Jackson street. The claim of the Janesville Water Co. for repairing the pipe under the Jackson street bridge which was accidentally broken by the city's bridge-builders, was allowed with the exception of the tree days' salaries for the superintendent and foreman, amounting to $15. The original bill was $93.15 and $78.15 was allowed.

Miscellaneous Business

S. B. Kenon's petition for permission to open a portion of Augusta street was referred to the aldermen of the third ward and the city attorney and the latter were granted further time for its consideration. Chairman Fish of the lighting committee had another change to propose in the names of streets. He introduced a resolution providing to the rechristen-ing as Ringold street the thoroughfare which was originally known by that name, but which was given the name of Liberty street in the measure passed at the last meeting. The resolution was carried without opposition. An order-instructing the street commissioner to repair First street from the C. & N. W. track to the east side of Carl street, was introduced by Ald. Hager and passed.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT
TOBACCO MEETING

Is Assured by Report to A. R. Fisher,
 Secretary of Wisconsin Association.

The next annual meeting of the Tobacco Growers and Dealers association which is to be held at Madison, Wis., December 5th and 6th, promises to be a record breaker in every respect. The weather has been propitious for taking down tobacco, and the competition for the $200 prizes offered for the best exhibits will be strong. Secretary Fisher is receiving very encouraging reports from all outlying tobacco sections and is assured of a large attendance. Tobacco growers are especially urged to attend this meeting. The program is replete in every respect. This will be an opportunity of a lifetime to accumulate useful knowledge pertaining to the tobacco industry.

CELEBRATED THE SILVER WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. FISHER COMMEMO-RATE WITH FAMILY GATH-ERING.

TWO POEMS WERE READ

Description of the Scenes of Boyhood Given by Mr. Dann, at the Dinner Table.

At their spacious home in the town of Center Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fisher, celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary, Friday, November 23rd, '06.
 In response to invitations issued about one hundred guests assembled at high noon to do honor to the occasion. It was a memorable day for all present, as it permitted many relatives and old time friends to exchange cordial greetings, renew old acquaintances and extend hearty congratulations to the host and hostess.
 To say that the guests were royally entertained would be but mildly expressing the hospitality shown.
 At 1 o'clock a sumptuous six-course New England dinner was served. The guests were most charmingly attended by the Misses Katie O'Neil, Bine, Wilbur Marton, Popple, Mae Fisher,
 Luella Dratahl, and Ella Butts.
 Immediately after the dinner service, Rev. J. W. Larrimore, of the Christian church, presided as toastmaster. After a few very appropriate remarks, he read the poem written and presented to Mrs. Fisher, by Mrs.
 F. W. Wallace, on her wedding day.

POEM.

"I might switch my dear little Nellie
 For bartering off her name;
 If I should I would do it so gently,
 Because I don't think she was too blame."

It was John who took her fishing
 And made her a Fisher too;
 With relatives and friends I am wishing,
 Them peace and prosperity, too.

May they be happy and loving In the sphere they are destined to move,
 And each day their talents improving
 And living in Jesus' love."

Mr. F. M. Dann, of "Gate Fame," next rendered an original poem, pathetically recalling events which had transpired during these twenty-five years.

"We congratulate you, John Fisher
 And wife,
 On your twenty-five years married life.
 Of all your old neighbors, none are left but you,
 You had the courage to stick it through.
 Few on the Maggolia road,
 But what have left their old abode;
 You went across the way,
 And settled down, apparently, to stay.
 Of all the old settlers, not one of their sons
 Have settled down where their fathers begun."

Twenty-five years ago the church and grade were strong.
 The list of their members was very long.
 Some say now, "The Church is Dead."
 There is nothing remaining but the shed.
 Of the Grange too, this is true;
 Don't these facts make you blue?

What have brought those changes about?
 Time has wiped old settlers out,
 And the children have moved out,
 Leaving farms to foreign birth.
 Had the sons and daughters staid,
 These old farms would still have paid.
 Parmley, Fisher, Thompson,
 Wallihan and Crow;
 I don't blame Cal Crow—
 For he had no sons to go.

Now, I'll tell some more in rhymes,
 For I like to tell of good old times.
 There was lots of fun in Center then,
 For the singing school had just begun.
 Dr. Pease of Janesville, for four dollars a night,
 Taught them to sing, and sing it right.
 Methinks I hear him count the time—
 1 — 2 — 3 — 4 — SING
 How the old school-house did ring.

John, did you ever hear your father tell,
 'Bout the Christ school-house and the bell?
 Sometimes o'erhead, 'twould go,
 Sometimes, as if, 'twas down below.
 The teachers never found the bell,
 But every scholar knew it well.

Say John, was it you,
 That got the joke on Billy Crow,
 'Bout the cartie in the corn, you know.
 How he chased the cattle all that night.
 John, did you do it? Was it right,
 To ring the bell in the corn field wide,
 For him to follow from side to side,
 When there was not a hood or horn,
 Just you boys were in his corn?
 No—I don't blame Wm. Crow for going away.
 I would have gone that night—to stay.
 Yes, times have changed since we were young.
 And our lives apart have drifted;
 But, sweet memories cling about us,
 Which we fondle with delight.

There is no friend like the old friend
 Who has shared our morning days,
 No greetings like his welcome,
 No homage like his praise.
 Fame is the scented flower,
 With gaudy crown of gold,
 But friendship is the breathing rose,
 With sweets, in every fold.
 There are no times like the old times,
 They shall never be forgot.
 There is no place like the old place,
 Keep green the dear old spot—
 There are no friends like the old friends—
 May heaven prolong their lives;
 'There are no loves, like the old loves,
 God Bless our loving wives."

The balance of the afternoon was enjoyably spent socially. Mrs. Fred Beemis of Footville, presiding at the

IMITATIONS THAT ARE IMITATIONS

Typewritten, Letters, Printed, That Defy Detection, by the Gazette Printing Company.

Imitation typewritten letters that are absolutely imitations will be a feature of work produced in the Gazette's printing department in the future. What is known as the Niedich process of imitating typewritten letters has been installed in this department. It is the acknowledged industry correct process for typewritten matter reproduction, as produced in printing offices, and the claims made for it are easily born out by the facsimiles, which through its use are reproduced. The filled in part of the letter cannot be distinguished from the printed part. Manufacturers and business people who have been in the habit of sending away from the city for imitation typewritten letters can have produced here equal to the very best anywhere.

CHANGING SENTIMENT.

Oliver Goldsmith's "Deserted Village," spoke of a "certain chapel" where those who "went to scoff," remained to pray. So in life one often laughs at what he does not understand and later, when he does understand, his laugh turns to praise.
 There were some who doubted the merits of Newbro's "Herpicide," the scalp-germicide and hair-dressing, but since they have tried it, they are now among its best friends and strongest endorsers. "Herpicide" kills the germ that eats the hair out of the root, and the hair then grows again. As a hair dressing it is incomparable. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE SAGE MILLIONS
The late Russell Sage left an estate, to his wife, valued at $80,000,000. Mrs. Sage, a woman well advanced in years, has recently expressed a desire to scatter this vast sum of money among the worthy and deserving poor, qualifying her desire with the statement that personal applications will not be considered.

Just what plan the estimable lady has in mind is not readily discovered, and her efforts to do philanthropic work will be watched with interest.

The interest on $9 millions, invested in high grade bonds, would keep an ordinary woman busy most of the time, while the effort to spend $9 millions in a decade would surpass many times over the fairy tale of "Brewster's Millions."

There is a limited amount of suffering in this country, as the result of poverty and misfortune, where the victims are not responsible for their condition, and where money furnishes the only relief, but this class of suffering is confined to people who are physically or mentally incapacitated for work.

The men and women, blessed with normal faculties, are not paupers, and unless blinded by prejudice and ignorance, they are not seeking charity. What they want, and all they ask, is the opportunity to earn an honest living by honest work. It is a God-given "ambition" which should be encouraged.

If Mrs. Sage wants to erect a monument that will live long after she is gone, let her invest about a million in 30 industries, and furnish employment to 100,000 people. This is the sort of philanthropy which develops man and womanhood, and the income from the investment would be sufficient to keep Mr. Sage employed in charitable work.

DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH
The question of how to distribute other people's wealth is being discussed more freely today, than at any time, in the history of the country. The demands of socialism, and its allied sympathizers, are pronounced and persistent.

President Roosevelt has felt called upon to recommend an income and inheritance tax, and the National Civic Federation will shortly convene to discuss the question.

The federation will be represented by such speakers as President Eliot of Harvard university, Oscar S. Straus, who is soon to be secretary of commerce, Andrew Carnegie, August Belmont, President Butler of Columbia university, M. E. Ingalls, Hermann Schumacher of the University of Berlin, Archbishop Ireland, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and W. D. Guthrie.

"The object of this discussion," says the Wall Street Journal, "will be to first, to convey information as to the practical operation of income and inheritance tax laws in different parts of the world, and second, to give expression to every shade of opinion in regard to the popular demand for some curb, some limitation on huge aggregations of wealth. In the language of the circular issued by the Civic Federation the questions are: Shall there be such limitation and if so, shall it be established by means of a graduated income tax and a graduated inheritance tax? Granting that there should be these taxes, should there be exemption or should every income be taxed alike? Will an income tax produce a nation of liars? What has been the experience of Europe?"

"Inasmuch as this subject has already been advanced in a most forcible manner by President Roosevelt and inasmuch as the mind of the country is directed more and more to this discussion must inevitably excite widespread interest. It is an indication to Wall street that a decided drift in favor of income tax is already at work. Coming events are casting their shadows before."

That the discussion will be exhaustive and intelligent is indicated by the class of speakers, who represent both wealth and brain, as well as hard common sense.

The Civic Federation recognizes the importance of meeting the tide of popular feeling, which has been aroused by latter day reformers, and is providing in advance for the protection of property and individual rights.

The wisdom of an income tax is of doubtful expediency, while the justice of an inheritance tax can only be determined by thoughtful and unprejudiced investigation.

This is a land of equal opportunities. The men of great wealth today are, with rare exception, self-made men, who commenced life in poverty, at the foot of the ladder. They have gone to the front because ambition prompted well directed and persistent energy, and the nation shares liberally in the result of their efforts.

Men of large fortunes are usually large investors in industries and transportation, and through these channels, employment is furnished to an army of American workmen.

That is a work of philanthropy under another name, for the man who provides work for his unemployed neighbor, is engaged in a broader charity than the man who gives him money.

The former encourages thrift, inspires hope, and develops manhood; while the latter stimulates laziness, makes paupers, and destroys self-respect.

It is well to regulate greed, whether in men of high or low estate, by law, but it is also well to remember that the spirit of confiscation is in the air, unduly influencing public sentiment along many lines.

MISS ADAH LONGLEY MARRIED IN CHICAGO.

A Week Ago Friday Evening to John Wesley Ebel—Go to Housekeeping in the Spring.
Miss Adah Longley, who, until recently, made her home on Park street in Janesville, and John Wesley Ebel of Chicago were married in that city Friday evening, November 16. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of one of the Presbyterian churches by Rev. Shaw and Miss Clara Jones, also a former Janesville young lady, was bridesmaid. The groom is in the employ of one of the large cereal companies. Sometime in the evening the happy couple will go to housekeeping. The bride has a host of friends among the young people of Janesville with whom she was very popular.

ROCK COUNTY HEN LAYS IMMENSE EGG

Larger Than Fruit of Chippewa County's Mammoth Egg-Layer—Six and a Half by Eight Inches.

A hen belonging to John Ashley of the town of Milton recently laid an egg which was eight inches around its greater circumference, six-and-a-half inches around its smaller and weighed four ounces. This is one of the largest pieces of hen fruit on record and probably holds first place in Wisconsin. It is larger by half an inch on its smaller circumference than those laid by a famous hen belonging to A. J. Adams of Lucas, Chippewa county.

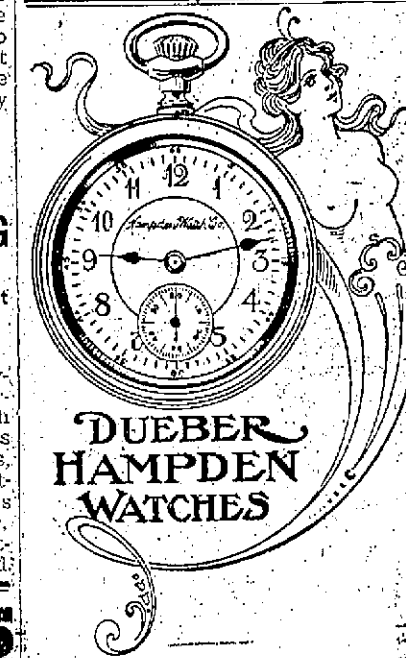

Unique Publications.
The Lockham Publishing Co., 70 Dearborn St., Chicago, publishes a unique class of books devoted to the home, the baby and family life. "Toxology" is a book of infant patterns, noted for simplicity, comfort and economy. The selling price is 30 cents postpaid.

"Babycraft" or just what to do for the baby, is a fascinating little book, filled with helpful suggestions and valuable information. The price in linen, postpaid, is 25 cents. Every mother should have it.

"Parental Rights and Economic Wrongs" has to do with the marriage relations. The author Virginia M. Butterfield, is a disciple of the late Henry George. She is an intelligent and entertaining writer, and her book is of special interest to young married people. It is a pure and wholesome discussion of vital topics not often discussed in cold type.

Her remedy for many existing evils—the single tax—may be a little far-fetched but this detracts nothing from the value of the book, which sells for 50 cents, prepaid.

VETERANS TO PLAY WITHOUT PRACTICE

Walter Carle Will Captain Alumni Football Team in Game Thanksgiving Day.

Captain Walter Carle of the high alumni football team has announced the names of those that will play on Thanksgiving day against the high school team. He himself will play guard; Walter Seitz and Harry Jones, center and other guard; Albert Mahoney and Harvey Lee, tackles; Edward Palmer and John Devins, ends and in the back field George Caldwell or Max Millmore will play fullback; George Sennett, Walter Faherty and John Roberts, the halfbacks, and John Galbreath, quarterback. The team will have no practice and the contest promises to be one of strength and weight without training under the new rules against speed and team work with a thorough knowledge of the reformed game. The game will occur at Athletic park and is to be called at three o'clock.

CITY DADS FEASTED
ON SAVORY VENISON

As Guests of City Marshal Appleby Last Evening—Vote of Thanks Was Extended to Host.

As guests of City Marshal William H. Appleby fourteen of the city's officials feasted on savory venison steaks, done to a turn, and served at Cornelius McDonald's restaurant last evening. While the deer which fell before the rifle carried by the head of the police department on his recent hunting trip in Forest county, furnished the principal viand, good things of the season were included in the tempting repast. At its close City Attorney Maxfield proposed a vote of thanks to the host and the same was extended with great enthusiasm. The guests included Mayor J. F. Hutchinson, City Attorney H. L. Maxfield, Health Commissioner W. D. Merritt, City Clerk A. E. Badger, and Aldermen E. H. Connell, J. J. Sheridan, Paul Rudolph, W. H. Merritt, Eugene T. Fish, George Buchholz, J. J. Dulin, W. W. ROCK RIVER. November 26.—The Ladies' Benevolent society will meet at the home of Mrs. Allen Davis next Thursday, December 6, instead of meeting with Mrs. Ashley.

Belle Marriott has recovered from her recent illness.

Herbert Taylor of Milton visited the Literary society Tuesday evening. A good program was presented, consisting of a recitation by Katie Vincent, an essay on "Winter Birds," by Inez Brightman; a five minutes' talk by Fred Rogers on "Experiences in a Medical School." The debate on the question "That a smoking stove is worse than a continual scold" was won by the affirmative. Maude Rose represented the affirmative and Fred Rogers the negative.

It was voted to give a Christmas entertainment here by the Sabbath school.

There are now thirty-six scholars enrolled in the district school here.

Orlo Vincent has purchased the farm of Solomon Carr for the consideration of $24,000. He will not take possession until the following year. All are glad to welcome them back to Wisconsin.

Mrs. Hawley Green attended church last Sunday.

Owing to the election of officers, the Literary society will present a shorter program than usual, but it will be interesting. All are cordially invited to attend these meetings. Remember the date, Tuesday evening, December 11th, at 7:30 o'clock. The following program will be presented:

Song..... Society
Violin solo..... Roy Vincent Accompaniment by Miss Hazel Vincent.

Recitation..... Katie Christenson
Song..... Quartet
Recitation..... Myron Davis
Music..... Roy and Hazel Vincent
Recitation..... Charles Vincent
Select Reading..... Ona Pierce
Music..... Roy and Hazel Vincent

There will be a church business meeting held here at the church on Sunday at 1 p. m. All the members are requested to be present.

A fine monument has been erected for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fassett on the family lot at Milton Junction.

FOOTVILLE. Nov. 26.—Don't forget the chicken pie supper and apron sale in the hall Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bahling are rejoicing over the arrival of a daughter, born Sunday, November 18.

John Honeysett and wife, Rev. Larimore and wife, F. M. Owen and wife, Mrs. Kate Dean and Mrs. Mary Wells are among those from here who attended the silver wedding anniversary of John Fisher and wife, which took place on Friday at their home in Center. All report a lovely time.

Harry Silverthorn of Orford, was a business caller here one day last week.

Alex. Wiggins and family attended the wedding of Miss Mabel Taylor in Orford last Wednesday.

Mr. Mabee, who is working in Rockford, spent Sunday with his family.

Lester Strang, who is teaching in Faxon, spent Sunday at the home of his parents.

Herman Albright is at home.

F. W. Owen and wife, Mrs. G. D. Silverthorn, Mrs. Walter Honeysett, Miss Dolly Strang, Miss Zoe Cory and Arthur Wiggins were among those who attended the chicken pie supper in Orfordville last Friday evening.

Mrs. K. J. Bemis received the sad tidings of the death of her mother in Florida, last Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Cory and Mrs. G. D. Silverthorn attended Eastern Star lodge in Evansville Monday night.

Before You Go

When about to travel, if subject to headache, nervousness, dizziness, or car-sickness, take one or two doses of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills before starting. They will insure you against an attack.

There are a great many who are sure to have headache, whenever they go to church or places of amusement, or where there is any excitement or oppression. Take them with you, and on the first indication, take a tablet and see how quickly it will disappear. To such persons Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a great blessing. They soothe the nerves and allay irritation and excitement.

"We always keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in our home, and find them a remarkable remedy for the relief of headache, nervousness, dizziness, or car-sickness. They are the most severe headache, but one is usually sufficient. By taking a tablet before going out to places of amusement, we find we do not have those distressing headaches that formerly came with every little excitement."

MISS MRS. AND ELLA WIELAND, 1335 So. 12th St., Springfield, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit you. If it fails, he will return your money.

25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

FOOTVILLE. Nov. 26.—Herman Long, who bought the John Drafiak place of one hundred and sixty acres last fall, has divided the place up with his brother Henry, who will now erect a complete set of buildings and make a new home for himself. When the buildings are completed it will make a very pleasant place.

Quite a number from here attended the chicken pie supper for the benefit of the cemetery association, at Orfordville on Friday evening. The night was ideal and a most enjoyable time is reported by all who attended. Special words of praise should be given the fine orchestra which was present on that occasion.

Despite the fact that last Wednesday was rainy all day, the sale of William Richard's farm property took place as advertised and stock and machinery all brought a satisfactory price. Mr. Richards expects to go to Kansas to make his future home, about December 15.

Mrs. Chessie Bernard, of Iowa, visited at the home of F. W. Owen and F. W. Snyder on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Zoe Cory resided at Orfordville at the cemetery benefit on Friday night.

Miss Ruby Bennett is spending Thanksgiving week at her home near Whitewater.

Paul Willing has laid aside his old

"The Blood is the Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is bad, the impure blood is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also affected, the mind and judgement are clouded, and many an evil deed or impure thought is directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Four Impure Blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purges the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

corn shredder and has negotiated for a large one of the Advance make.

Coal is now selling here at $3.25 per ton. It dropped twenty-five cents per ton recently.

Barl Richards has bought a new cream separator of the Sharples tubular make.

SHOPIERE. Nov. 26.—Mrs. Rose Merriam entertained the Larkin club at dinner on Saturday.

Mrs. Bert Van Gilder of Emerald Grove visited at Mrs. Perkins' on Friday.

There was no service at the M. E. church on Sunday.

Remember the fair and chicken pie supper at the Congregational church on Wednesday afternoon and evening, December 5.

Frank Kuipschield and family are now residents of our village.

MILTON. Nov. 27.—A very pretty home wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Green of this village, on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21, when their daughter, Rena M. Green, was united in marriage to Richard Loyal Hull in the presence of eight hundred guests. At the appointed hour, the groom and his best man, Frank Maxwell, preceded by Rev. Dr. Platts, the officiating clergyman, and followed by the bride and bridesmaids, Messrs. L. T. Hull and W. Coon, ushers, and "Free Frances" Cartwright and Leora Gray as flower girls, the bride being attended by Miss Adeline Shaw, entered the room as Wagner's wedding march was rendered by Miss Hazel Pierce of Chicago and Mrs. W. E. Rogers. Assuming their positions under a beautiful bower Dr. Platts spoke the words that united the couple. The bride was attired in cream-colored silk and both carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums. The house decorations were autumn leaves, with settings of evergreens with pink and white chrysanthemums. The tokens of remembrance were beautiful and large in number. After the ceremony a two-course lunch was served. Among the guests were friends from Chicago, Battle Creek, Mich., Fairdale, Ill., and Wauwatosa, Wis. Mr. Hull has taught in the public schools of the country for several years and the groom is in the employ of A. M. Van Horn. They will be at home to their friends at Milton Junction after Jan. 1, 1907. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hull united in hearty congratulations and best wishes.

The comedy "Seven-Twenty-Eight," presented by the Philomathean society of Milton college, Thursday evening, was pronounced by a large audience the best thing in that line ever produced here and in response to a demand from the public was repeated Saturday evening. Miss Babcock and the players are to be congratulated on their dramatic success. Cast: Courtney Corliss, a gentleman of leisure, with a theory concerning boomerangs, employing his leisure in the pleasant pursuit of hunting a face—R. V. Hurley. Mr. Laurenceot, a retired party who becomes the victim of the inevitable, and is bound, Mazepa-like, to his wife's hobby—L. H. Springer. Paul Hollyhook, his son-in-law, devoted to his potatoes until the tempter comes—W. F. Stewart. Signor Palmiro Tamborini, late Maître de Ballet, Covent Garden, now on a mission and searching for an original—O. S. Deggett, a postman on his round—L. G. Goodrich, Professor Gasleigh, inventor and founder of a refuge for the outcasts of the town—W. E. Rogers. Jobbins, Mrs. Hook's former—L. G. Goodrich. Mrs. Hyatt Burgess, a lady possessed of angers, aspirations, and a hobby—L. T. Hull. Dora Hollyhook, her daughter, with a grievance, and who is at once her husband's tempter and victim—L. H. North. Flois, the much sought original of the portrait, "20-S"—L. N. Rounseville. Jessie, Mrs. Burgess' servant, with yearnings beyond her station—O. R. Arrington. Scapiois: Act I.—The theory of the boomerang. The search is begun, and the "Scattered Leaflets" arrive. Act II.—The serpent in the garden. Serpent—Mr. Gasleigh. The boomerangs are cast. Act III.—Intoxication of the metropolis. The drama of the missing lamp and the romance of the forsaken. A novel illumination. His IV.—The boomerang's destiny is fulfilled. In the story of the first and second acts, not passes at Briggs' country place, somewhere in the Empire state. The action of the third and fourth acts passes in New York near Central Park.

The Milton Junction and Milton high schools played an alleged game of football here Thursday afternoon. The visitors' outclassed the locals in weight and science and won by a score of twenty-seven to nothing.

EXPERIMENTS KILL PRISONERS.

Inoculated with Cholera Virus at Manila, Ten-Die.

Manila, Nov. 27.—As a result of experiments with cholera virus at Bill-bid prison ten prisoners out of 214 who were inoculated have died. The experiments were conducted by Dr. R. P. Strong, of the bureau of science. The death of the prisoners took place a few days after they were inoculated. It is declared by the investigators that the fatalities resulted from contamination of the virus with the bubonic plague virus. Cholera virus is in constant use here, and it has proved beneficial previously. It has been used in Spain in thousands of cases and with excellent results.

Gov. Gen. Smith in a statement to the public exonerated Dr. Strong and declared that the commission would take care of the families of the dead prisoners.

free to go ahead with its present plans for the pacification of the island. It is not thought that the coming session will tackle the subject of corporations, though this is one of the "leaders" in the President's program. Many of the party leaders believe it wiser to let such an important subject as the President's demand for a federal license law for all corporations doing an interstate business go over to the Sixtieth congress, which will have more time to give to the subject. Though nothing authoritatively is to be learned in regard to the matter it is rumored that the President has been won over by his advisers and will consent to withhold his anti-corporation program for a year.

If the left-over business is disposed of and the appropriation bills passed, the short session will have a good record for industry. The senate will have more work than the house. It has before it some important treaties, and it will have to decide what shall be the final disposition of some important legislation which went through the house at the last session and was temporarily pigeon-holed in senate committees.

The Santo Domingo treaty, which has been pending for a year and a half, the treaty ceding the Isle of Pines to Cuba, which is strongly opposed by Senator Morgan, and the Morocco treaty are to come before the senate.

The further restriction of immigration is one of the first questions of country wide interest that will be taken up. Adjournment last June left the bill pending because the two branches were unable to agree on some of its provisions. The head tax and the educational test are the two points in dispute. It was said at the time that the majority feared to take final action because of the effect it might have on the coming elections. Now that the elections are over there appears to be no good reason why an agreement should not be reached and the measure put through with little difficulty.

The smoot case is bound to bob up again, and some action probably will be taken to take his seat away from the Mormon senator. The chances are, however, that the case will go over on some pretext or another, as it has already dragged along for four years, and that the senator from Utah will eventually fill out his term.

Two election reform measures are pending. One provides for publicity in campaign affairs, the other prohibits corporation contributions for campaign purposes. Neither bill made much headway during the last session, and notwithstanding that the measure has the President's approval, it seems doubtful whether it gets through at this session.

A strong effort is to be made to pull through the ship subsidy bill. This measure was passed by the senate last session, but was held up in the house. The fate of the bill is in the speaker's hands and if Mr. Cannon can be won over the measure will become a law.

The bill lowering the duties on Philippine products entering the United States, popularly known as the Philippine tariff bill, is another important piece of "left-over" legislation. President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft are both strongly in favor of this legislation, believing that it will go a long way toward strengthening the faith of the Filipinos in the good intentions of the United States. The trusts have put up bitter opposition to the measure, which was pigeon-holed in the senate last session, and its supporters will probably find it necessary to accept some modifications in the bill before it can be passed.

Senator La Follette's bill limiting the working hours of railroad employees will come up for a vote in January. This measure has the approval of the President and it is possible that it may be enacted at the present session.

Among the other unfinished pieces of legislation that will be pressing for consideration are the Foraker bill, to make Porto Ricans citizens of the United States, the bills for copyright revision, for codifying the revised statutes, a bill providing for a cable to the canal zone, for swamp reclamation under the irrigation statute, the anti-injunction bill, the eight-hour bill, and a bill for the retirement of superannuated federal clerks.

It rarely fails to cure rheumatism because it supplies the blood with the necessary substance to absorb the poison of rheumatism-uric acid. That is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Tea or Tablets, 25 cents. Smith Drug Co.

WE QUOTE

The following jingles from the November number of "Profitable Advertising":

"Poor Lazarus was a beggar, Whom everyone despised; But he might have been the Rich Man Had he only advertised."

Not unreasonable to suppose, but more to the point of the power of printers' ink is this:

"The world has very many lambs, whose owners' names are hid, And yet these lambs, grey wool, as white as Mary's ever did. Of course the fame of Mary's lamb is not at all surprising. 'Twas brought about by out-and-out persistent advertising."

Just so is the fame of every man's goods or his store. It is "out-and-out persistent" advertising that turns the trick. For the Janesville merchant the quick, sure way is your name and wares in the columns of the Gazette.

"Well, but after all, there couldn't have been any great beauty in the rain. It must have blotted out all the view."

"Yes, but think how odd it was to find all these tremendous peaks suddenly gone. Not a mountain in sight in any direction. But, then, the thunder. Oh, that was grand! The way it rolls about and reverberates gives one a good idea of a great battle. There was something afterward that carried out this similarity, too, which I wish I could describe. It was after the storm had passed and the bright setting sun shone forth. Try to see the picture. Imagine yourself sitting just where I am now, and looking toward the Presidential mound, the sun setting red behind us. Mount Washington had shaken the clouds from his head and was encircled by a gorgeous halo; in the form of a brilliant double rainbow. One end of it seemed to come up right out of the valley there, while the other disappeared behind Star King mountain. The flying clouds, still black and heavy, whirled swiftly along, hanging low, and with the sun approaching the horizon, made shifting shadows across the base of Mount Washington, while between the red rays of the sun striking different parts made beautiful tints among the green and the brown of trees and rock. Oh, if an artist could only have seen that! But then it would have been useless, for the hand of man could not paint such grandeur. It was in the foreground that the resemblance to the battlefields was to be seen again. Every here and there stray bits of clouds distinguished themselves from the tree tops and rose up smoke-like till one could imagine them to be from thousands of campfires. Oh, it was simply wonderful."

"It was indeed," said Mr. Thaurer, "and your description brings it all back again to me."

"Then the beautiful long twilight," Dora continued, almost unheeding, "that was lovely. Slowly these stray bits of mist met and joined others, till as the darkness came and the moon brightened, that beautiful sheet of water—for after all your lake is real water—accumulated, and there it is. At least you can enjoy that."

He did. But what he enjoyed more was the simple happiness of being with her. After a short time, however, he was deprived of that, for Mrs. Remsen claimed his attention, and took him up to the ballroom to introduce him to some of the many young women who were dancing with each other and with boys of 14 for want of better partners."

If Mr. Thaurer annoyed Mr. Randolph by being at this resort, the latter gentleman was none the more pleased at his arrival. Being left alone with Dora, and constraining her present mood to be one favorable to his wooing, he determined to speak to her before the other man might find a chance. Moving his chair nearer hers, he began, getting to his subject without much circumlocution.

"Miss Dora," said he, "do you recall a conversation that I had with you one day? I mean about loneliness and the longing one has for companionship?"

"Oh, yes," said she frankly, "why? Do you wish to continue it now?"

"If you please. You remember you said you would be better able to do so after your sister's marriage."

"Because I thought that I would miss her so much and be lonely myself, was not that it? Well, of course I have missed Queen very much, but I have scarcely been lonely. You have taken care of that, and I am sure that I am very grateful to you. You have been very nice to me."

"You think so? You admit that?" He spoke eagerly.

"Why, yes! Why not, since it is true?"

"Of course, but then you know so many young ladies hide their feelings. I mean suppression of all emotion is considered so necessary in a woman in these days."

"Suppression!" and she laughed heartily. "Now do you think that I could ever be suppressed?"

"No, indeed, and certainly I hope that you never will be. But if you have not been lonely, perhaps you have thought of some of that other subject, love, I mean."

"Oh! That!"

"Yes. That is one question; supreme to me, about which I wish to have your views. Do you think you would be happier or unhappier—if you were married?"

"That is a question. It would depend upon my husband, would it not?"

"Suppose that we were?"

"Don't call names, please. I couldn't suppose such a thing. I have promised not to."

"Promised not to. I don't understand."

"I mean that I have made a bet. You don't think I am horrid to bet, do you? Of course you don't. Well, I have made a curious bet with Bob, Mr. Mitchell, you know. I call him Bob now, and I used to do it sometimes before. That was when I wanted him to do anything for me. It made him feel like one of the family. Well, to tell you about my bet. You see, sometimes, when Emily was out, Bob would play make love to me. He said it would be good practice for me; would teach me the ways of the world and all that sort of thing. Oh, Bob is a carious man, but he is great sport! Don't you like him?"

"Immensely. But you have not told me yet about your bet."

"I am coming to it. Well, one day when he was making love to me and I was doing my best, suddenly he burst out laughing and said, 'Dora, I'll bet you'll be married within six months of our marriage.' 'How much?' said I. 'As much as you like,' said he. I asked him if he would make it $1,000, and he whistled and called me a little gambler. But I don't think it was gambling because I was to have a certainty. Of course I wanted the stake to be a large one. So it was agreed, and he wrote it down on paper. I'll show it to you some time if you like. If I am not engaged before the 1st of January, Bob will have to pay me $1,000."

"And you mean to win that bet?"

"Indeed I do. I am young and can afford to wait, that long, I am sure. There will be time enough afterward to get a husband."

"Then it would not make any difference how anxious a suitor might be to have his reply at once?"

"No, certainly not. If a man did not love me enough to wait a few months for my answer, I should think myself well rid of him. Besides it would give me a chance to study him."

"Suppose—but, no—I do ask you. Miss Dora—Dora—I love you madly, passionately, and—"

"Well, don't say any more. If that is true and you love me madly, passionately, why, then you will surely wait till January for my answer." This was said rather curtly, and Mr. Thaurer's hopes sank, but rose again to fever heat as she said very softly: "There, I did not mean to hurt you. You must not think me hard. But I must win that wager. Not so much for the money as for the gratification of proving to Bob that I have some control over myself. Surely if you truly love me, you will not begrudge me that satisfaction?"

"No, no, sweet one. Have your own way. I'll wait. Only say that there is some chance of my succeeding."

"Why, of course, every one has a chance. But I must not tell you how great yours is, because if I did I would not be winning, my bet fairly. And I must say good night," with which she left him. Her last words lingered with him, and he took comfort. For that could mean but that his chances were good, since if otherwise how could the telling prevent her from winning her wager? Nevertheless, as the weeks went on he tried many times to get a more definite reply from her, but never succeeded. Still he hugged the cherished hope to his heart and waited as patiently as man could.

Randolph was simply miserable all the time. Whenever he was with Dora, she was good to him, kind to him and often used tender tones that thrilled his heart. But he, too, failed to get anything from her, save the old request that he should be patient and wait. He, too, waited, but not patiently.

Meanwhile, in New York, Mr. Barnes was still burrowing into everything that seemed to have any connection direct or otherwise with the mystery or mysteries that baffled him. Of one thing he had satisfied himself beyond all doubt. That was that Mr. Fisher had not been implicated in the train robbery. His spy had found that he had been absent from the city during those three days at the time of the crime, but this very fact had been shown to be his safeguard.

By some skillful work the man discovered that during that time he had simply been off shooting ducks in a part of the country where it would have been impossible for him to be in an accomplice. This simple fact should not have been hard to discover were it not that Fisher had kept his trip a secret. This for some time puzzled the detective, but finally he followed him out of the city, and practically accompanied him on a similar outing, after which he learned that his sister was morbidly opposed to all killing, whether for sport or for a livelihood. It was to humor this idea that her brother made his excursions in secret. The spy learned from the man from whom the dogs were hired that Mr. Fisher had used them in December. So that left him out of the score, or at least so it seemed. It was still possible that he was implicated in the robbery, though, though, save that he was present, there seemed nothing against him. Mr. Barnes did not entirely leave him out of the account.

Thus practically the detective made no progress, and was chagrined to be so.

SO DECEPTIVE.

Many Janesville People Fail to Realize the Seriousness of Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. Learn the cause—then cure it. Nine times out of ten it comes from the kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Cure every kidney ailment from backache to diabetes. Here's a Janesville case to prove it: John Lawler, of 259 South River street, Janesville, Wis., says: "During the several years I suffered from kidney trouble I used about every remedy that was ever recommended, and it is a positive fact that none of these preparations did me as much good as a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at The People's Drug Company. I might say that they have given me a new back. I will never forget the great relief I found through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and I keep them always on hand, and whenever I feel that weakness in the back I take a couple of doses and they drive the trouble away."

We seek the worse cases and cure them with Orline. It can be given secretly. Orline is sold and guaranteed by People's Drug Store and King's Pharmacy.

Compelled to admit it. "Truly, however, an idea occurred to him, upon which the more he dwelt the more fascinated he became with it. To put it into practice, however, he felt that he must await the return of Mr. Mitchell. He thought he would injure his cause by seeking him and so disturbing him during his pleasure trip."

The Mitchell did not keep their promise to go to the White mountains, but, on the contrary, prolonged their western travel, so that it was November before they were at home again and temporarily quartered at the Fifth Avenue. A few days after, Mr. Barnes sent up his card, and, as usual, was cordially received.

"Any news of my wife's ruby?" asked Mr. Mitchell, grasping the detective warmly by the hand.

"No, Mr. Mitchell. I am sorry to say that I am utterly unable to prove any of my theories about that. But I have come to a set determination, and one that to you may seem a peculiar one. I have come to ask your assistance in the murder case."

"Why, certainly, I will help you. Did I not tell you so at the very outset? Have I not always been willing to talk freely to you?"

"You have, but as long as I thought that you yourself might have committed the crime, how could I come to you to ask you to assist me?"

"Then I am to understand that at present you do not suspect me?"

"I have come to that conclusion at last and wish now that I had done so sooner."

"Would you mind telling me why you have altered your mind? You have told me so much that seemed to implicate me that I am anxious to hear the other side."

"Certainly. I overheard your wager."

Then came the robbery and then the murder. Later there was a second jewel robbery. All of these crimes occurred within the limit which you set. One of them of course you committed. It seems more probable that you stole the single ruby, for in doing that you committed a crime for which you could not be punished, especially since you have married the lady. Even before she would willingly have testified that it was understood between you, and that it was simply a trick to win a wager. Is not that correct logic?"

"Correct logic? Yes. Of course I admit nothing as to facts."

"Either or both of these robberies are secondary to the murder. That I have determined to unravel if I can. At present I think the train robber and the murderer was one and the same person. Now, there is one clew which I have not been able to follow, but which, if pursued, I am certain will lead me straight to the criminal."

"And that is?"

"The button which I found in the room. That is significant. It is too great a coincidence that it should match your set not to have an explanation that would shed light upon this case."

"How do you expect me to assist you in that direction?"

On Wednesday evening at Royal hall, Lorado Taft, the noted sculptor, delivered his lecture on "A Glimpse of a Sculptor's Studio" or "How Statues Are Made."

The lecture was devoted to clay modeling, in which he showed a sculptor's workshop as it really is, with the artist at work. He used a number of subjects and worked the clay before the audience and with a few touches of his fingers molded faces and in an instant changed the expression from laughter to tears, from joy to sadness, or from seriousness to surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ellis under the auspices of the Royal Neighbors presented character sketches at Royal hall on Friday evening. Their work was very clever and they had a large and enthusiastic audience.

On Friday evening Mrs. Theo. Clarke entertained about 35 ladies at a bundle shower in honor of Miss Leah Clarke. Cards and stiches were the evening pastime. Mrs. P. M. Ellington winning honors at euchre and Miss Olga Hanson those at finish.

At the Congregational church, Rev. L. A. Parr chose for his morning subject "The Sabbath." In the evening he spoke on "The Good Son of a Bad Father." The ladies' society of the Congregational church will meet in the church parlors on Tuesday afternoon or on Wednesday as usual.

MARY PECK THOMPSON BEFORE APOLLO CLUB

Chicago Soprano Pleased all Hearers—Other Features of a Delightful Program.

The fourth concert of the Apollo Club took place in Library Hall last evening. The program was in charge of Mrs. John Rexford, who succeeded in bringing together a fine combination of talent. The chief features of the evening's work being entrusted to Miss Mary Peck Thompson of Chicago, and Mr. Roy Carter, The Misses Crandall's violin and piano number had to be omitted, owing to absence, through sickness, of one of the performers.

Miss Thompson's magnificent soprano voice was heard to great advantage in her six songs, and singing with splendid energy and tender pathos, coupled with her engaging stage presence, completely won her audience. Her two French numbers—"Jeunes Fillettes" and "Vous Dansez Marquise"—were especially delightful. She most kindly twice responded to encores. Miss Ada Pond was her sympathetic accompanist. Mr. Roy Carter, in Von Flieitz's song cycle "Eiland," was heard at his very best and for the first time in really heavy work. He proved himself entirely equal to the demands made on him and was enthusiastically received by his audience. As a glance at the titles of the songs in the cycle will give, all the various chords of human feeling are touched, wedded to exactly suitable music. A great deal of credit and praise are due to Mr. Carter for his fine interpretation of this meritorious work.

Miss Peters was at the piano for the cycle and her sympathetic accompaniments gave admirable support to the work, being especially good in numbers seven and nine. She possesses, in marked degree, those absolute essentials of good accompaniment, humility and resource. The other parts of the program—the opening piano duet, the unaccompanied quartette and the double quartette of the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin"—were all performed acceptably and well, with the exception that in the latter some of the male voices were not quite evenly balanced, while the tenor was at times a little too pronounced.

BROTHER KILLED IN WRECK AT STANLEY

James Quinn Received Sad News This Morning—Deceased Was Traveling Man.

James Quinn of 155 Caroline street received word this morning that his brother, Charles Quinn of Madison, was killed late yesterday afternoon in a freight wreck at Stanley, Wis. Mr. Quinn had been hunting with Marz Schachler of Chippewa Falls and James W. Hubbard of Eau Claire, and was returning home on a freight train. Their caboose was side-tracked at Stanley and the switch left open. A heavy freight, going down grade, at nearly full speed, went through the switch and crashed into the caboose, it being enveloped in a dense fog. Ten passengers were aboard, but all except the three above mentioned escaped unharmful. Mr. Quinn was killed outright. Schachler died in a Chippewa Falls hospital last night, and Hubbard sustained rib fractures and internal injuries that it is thought will not prove fatal. Mr. Quinn has been on the road for many years and had never been in a wreck. The body will probably be brought to Madison for burial and James Quinn will go there tomorrow.

PERSONAL MENTION.

A. J. Hackett, Geo. W. Qunsby, Herbert Piper, John S. Meldun, and Mrs. Anna Bozzell, all of Palmyra, are in the city today.

Division Supt. F. H. Hammell and Trainmaster F. D. Pendell of Fond du Lac were Janesville visitors last evening.

H. Ballentine and sister, Miss Lizette Ballentine, have returned from a week's visit with relatives at Plymouth.

Mrs. C. C. Searles of Rochelle, Ill., was a Janesville visitor yesterday.

A. P. Lovejoy went to Milwaukee this morning.

M. G. Jeffris was a Madison visitor today.

Charles Myhr went to Platteville this morning.

L. L. Leffingwell went to Whitewater today.

John Soulmant and Frank Mouat went to Orfordville today.

W. T. Dooley was in Orfordville this morning on business.

PALL BEARERS WERE NAMED IN LETTER

Pliny Wilbur Selected Those Who he Knew Best—Funeral Thursday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Pliny Wilbur, whose suicide shocked the whole community yesterday, will be held from the Presbyterian church at half past two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. J. W. Laughlin will officiate. Those of the local high school graduating class of 1903 who are in the city will attend in a body. The pallbearers were selected by the deceased he having named the following, as those he was best acquainted with, in his last letter to his father: William McCue, James Keenan, John Horn, Harry Jones, Harry George and John Hager. Interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Byron Vaughan will be held tomorrow. The cortege will depart from the home of the deceased's sister, Mrs. Frank Ayers, at 156 Prospect avenue, at ten thirty in the morning and proceed overland to Edgerton. Rites will be performed in the Congregational church there at half past one o'clock and interment will be in the Edgerton cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Bohm. All that is mortal of the late Mary Bohm was tenderly interred in the Plymouth cemetery Sunday. The funeral services were held from the home near Beloit and in the Plymouth church Rev. Mr. Schaller of the Beloit German Lutheran church officiating. Floral offerings were many and the attendance was large. The pallbearers were Charles and John Wisch, brothers of the deceased, William Dettmer and Leo Wisch, the latter a nephew.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS VISIT HERE TODAY

St. Paul Road Officials Came in Special Car—Because Freight Have Been Delayed?

D. C. Cheney, assistant general superintendent; E. T. Wright, superintendent of the Mineral Point division; Walter Alexander, Assistant district master mechanic; and C. H. Agner, Mineral Point division train dispatcher, came here in a special car, attached to the 10:15 train from Milwaukee, this morning and spent a few hours inspecting the C. M. & St. P. railway company's equipment here. That there is any reason other than simply the inspection cannot be ascertained, but railway men say that the freight situation here is responsible for the visit. Of late there has been much delay in dispatching trains out of the city because the yards have been blocked and it has been next to impossible to keep straight the business of the four divisions that terminate at this point. Yesterday afternoon an order creating the office of yardmaster at Janesville was received and John Kelley, the oldest switch-engine foreman here, was appointed to the place. This morning he took charge of the yards, directing the movements of all trains and switch-engines.

SPLENDID CONCERT BY STANDARD OPERA CO.

At the Myra Theatre Last Evening—Cecil DeMille Talks About Projected Stock Company.

Numerous other attractions in the city last evening seriously affected the attendance at the splendid entertainment given by Rudolph Berliner and his superb orchestra, Miss Pauline Perry and the other members of the Standard Opera Co. forces at the Myra theatre. But the enthusiasm of those who listened made up in a measure for the lack in numbers. The renditions of the overture from Rossini's "William Tell," the Tannhauser march from Wagner, the selection from Nicolai's "Merry Wives of Windsor," "The American Patrol," and the popular numbers with which it responded to the repeated encores, showed the remarkable skill and versatility of the finest small orchestra that has ever been heard in Janesville. Miss Pauline Perry's pure, sweet soprano was heard to great advantage in the selection "He Will Be Here," from "The Jewess," and Miss Clara Hunt, contralto, gave a very pleasing rendition of the aria from "Les Huguenots." George Natanson, remembered for his excellent work in the operas, demonstrated in his singing of "The Evening Star" from Wagner that the timbre and range of his beautiful baritone had not been fully appreciated on the two former occasions of his appearance here. Owing to the illness of Mr. Howard his duet with Miss Hunt had to be omitted. Johann Berthelson, basso, pleased with his selection from Leoncavallo, Conductor Rudolph Berliner made his violin recall strange moods and gorgeous fancies; and Cecil DeMille, reading to the accompaniment of weird notes from the piano, drum beat and bugle call, gave a vivid and convincing picture of Kipling's old hero "Gunga Din."

COURT CALENDAR IS NOW RECONSTRUCTED

Criminal Case of State vs. Hansen Will Be Tried on Dec. 10 and Other Jury Cases Are to Follow.

Deputy Clerk Spangler of Jefferson county and several attorneys and witnesses from Palmyra came here today to appear in the divorce case of Mrs. Anna Bozzell vs. Bozzell, tried before Judge Dunwiddie. A decree was granted to the plaintiff. The court calendar was rearranged today. On Dec. 8 at 10 a. m. the issue for the court of Kate H. Allison vs. Herman Schunacher will be tried. The criminal case of the State vs. N. C. Hansen, charged with selling adulterated milk, will be tried by the jury when it re-assembles on Dec. 10. Other jury cases to follow in their order are: Byrne vs. the C. & N. W. Ry. Co.,

Keeler vs. the Interior Land Co., Jackson vs. Inman, Welch vs. the R. B. & J. Ingham Ry. Co., Kate Mattick vs. the City of Janesville. The action of Berger vs. Rock County Sugar Co., is set for a day certain, Dec. 11 at 2 p. m. The action of Gilbert Wheeler vs. Adelaide Wheeler goes to the court calendar. The motion for a new trial in the action of Pickett vs. Hume will be argued Saturday, Dec. 1 at 10 a. m. The actions of Casey vs. Strauss, Conger vs. Warren and Green vs. the St. Paul Ry. go over to Judge Grimm's term. To motion in the Stockman vs. Wixom case is to be heard at 10 a. m. on Dec. 1.
